* For the years 1919 to 1928, inclusive, statistics for British Columbia include also statistics for the Yukon Territory; for the years 1929 to 1942, inclusive, statistics for the Yukon Territory are not included, so that the two periods are not strictly comparable. However, statistics for the Yukon Territory form only a very small part of the totals as given for the period 1919–28.

† Statistics of the non-ferrous metal smelting industry were included in manufactures for the first time in 1925.

‡ The large decrease in the number of employees since 1931 is not entirely due to the decline in manufacturing production. The decrease is in part due to a change in the method of computing the average annual employment of wage-earners.

§ Preliminary and estimated do not apply to the population figures. The number of establishments is not available for these years.

Introduction

THE motive which prompts the continued publication and distribution of this British Columbia Trade Index is the desire to lend added impetus to the current rapid industrial expansion in our Province. Scores of new industries have gone into production and many old ones have greatly increased their former capacity.

The data brought up to date herein are intended to serve as a simplified ready reference for potential buyers at home and abroad, and should tend to play an important part in the further development of both the domestic and export trade of British Columbia.

This information has been compiled from returns sent in by the firms themselves to the Bureau of Economics and Statistics and from other departmental sources. With a view to having the index as complete as possible, it has been deemed advisable to use other reliable sources of information in regard to firms who have neglected to report but who are known to be definitely manufacturing.

As far as possible, we have attempted to fit the commodities shown in the questionnaires to the headings shown on our code. This has been done in order to eliminate certain duplications in description and definition of commodities, and also to keep the master code from becoming cumbersome.

We would like to extend our appreciation to those firms answering our questionnaire, because they have made this publication possible.

G. T. HATCHER,
Director, Bureau of Economics and Statistics,
Department of Trade and Industry.

The address given of firms included in the index is that of the main place of business, usually the head office, although it may be both factory and office address. In order to facilitate the work involved in compiling the index, abbreviations have been resorted to, such as " Co. Ltd." for Company Limited.

The dagger (†) against firm names on the following pages denotes a change of name or address. These changes are detailed on page 40.

A list of firms received too late for inclusion in the main body of the Index will be found under "Additions" on page 41.

AN ALPHABETICAL LIST OF PRODUCTS MANUFACTURED IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

Detailed company addresses are listed in the green pages of this directory.

In order that articles of a similar nature will appear close to one another in the Index, the word of the heading considered most important has been placed first; i.e., furniture, household, bedroom; fish, canned, salmon; castings, brass or bronze. In cases where the inversion seems misplaced, the headings have been listed in their customary sequence. Precise commodity descriptions are used wherever possible.

To facilitate the work involved in compiling the Index, abbreviations have been resorted to, such as "Co. Ltd." for Company Limited.

The asterisk (*) against the firm names on the following pages denotes companies engaged or interested in export trade.
